

U.S. Army Sustainability

The Army must continually evolve to remain relevant and ready to meet global challenges. Sustainability connects our activities today to those of tomorrow with sound business and environmental practices. We have learned over the past decades that simply complying with environmental regulations will not ensure that we will be able to sustain our mission.

Meeting mission requirements worldwide will increasingly require safeguarding the natural systems, upon which our quality of life depends. We must strive to become systems thinkers if we are to benefit from the interrelationships of the triple bottom line of sustainability: mission, environment, and community.
